Gift To Student Body Causes Varied Comment

Interest Aroused As To Reason For Sandwich Company Presenting One Hundred Dollars

"There is something fishy about this deal" was the opinion of a number of students who dropped into The Gater office this week to inquire as to what was the prompting motive for a sandwich company wishing to make a $100 donation to the student body, as stated in the executive board minutes of April 1.

Dispatching a reporter to the student body office, The Gater was able to dig up the letter that appears in column two of today's paper and also find out that the hundred dollars was to be given by the sandwich company "with no strings attached and that the money could be spent any way the executive board saw fit to spend it." The company only requested that the student council consider the matter of placing their sandwiches in a very conspicuous spot in the co-op.

Student Treasurer Fred Kline had the following to say about the matter: "I believe the executive board is showing discrimination in this situation."

"If we can get $100, I think we ought to take it," was the sentiment of high senior prexy Ed Smith.

Jim Martin, business manager of The Gater, was more emphatic in his statement: "I think the action was nothing short of a bribe. I can see no reason why any company should be allowed to influence the management of the co-op by presenting 'gifts' to the student body."

Music

Band, A Capella Program Tuesday

In their first formal concert of the season, the College band and the A Cappella choir are presenting a diversified program on Tuesday evening, April 16, at Everett Junior High School auditorium. The concert, which is free to the public, starts at 8 o'clock.

Spurred on by the success of the recent concert given before Balboa High school students, where they were received with overwhelming ovations, the band and the choir give promise of presenting one of the finest concerts of the season.

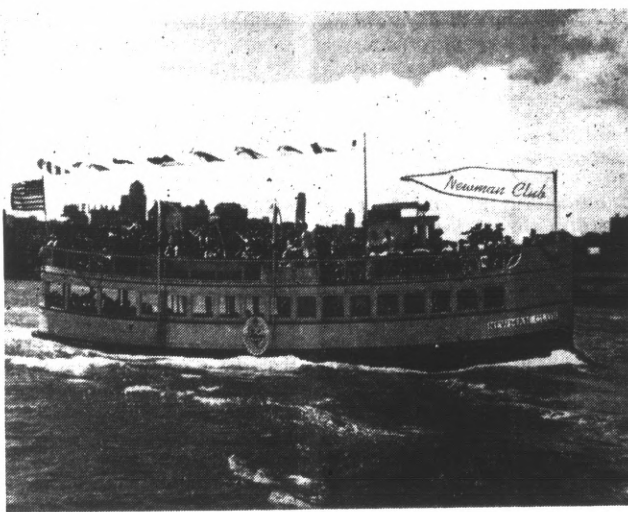

Westminster Club

Aid To Chinese Plan Discussed

Declaring that giving aid to destitute Chinese students through the Far Eastern students Fund bears no implications of political right or wrong but only of giving aid to fellow students in need, Bill Belton summarized the issue in a discussion of the project at a recent meeting of the Westminster Club.

Choy Wong, a member of the Chinese Student Club, gave a perspective of mass student migrations in China and pointed out some of their needs.

Good Ship S. S. Newman

Above is the Crowley launch that is going to transport two hundred excursionists around the bay to Paradise Cove next Sunday.

Excursion

Newmanites Ship Out Sunday For Boatripe To Paradise Cove

Everybody's going! Or at least, everyone wants to go. But, and here's the catch...

Only 200 excursionists can be accommodated, and less than 50 tickets remain to be sold.

Newman Club's second annual boat ride is just around the corner. In fact, it's next Sunday. It's even rather early Sunday. The S.S. Newman, a camouflaged Crowley launch, shoves off Pier 14, foot of Mission street, at 9 o'clock.

It crosses the bay with both horsepower sputtering and docks at the Berkeley Yacht Harbor, where it picks up a crowd of Cal coeds (fresh from last year's boat ride) and a few stray Cal collegians plus the Cal varsity baseball team.

This last named outfit will meet the State Newman softball squad at 2 in the afternoon for the right to travel to Davis and battle the Cal Aggie softball machine for the province championship. The Cal squad will be performing under the banner of the Cal Newman Club.

From Berkeley the Newman will cruise about Treasure Island, Alcatraz, Angel Island and other points of interest and dock at Paradise Cove.

Letter From A Donor!

March 30, 1940.

Mr. Robert Sweeney,
President, Associated Students,
S.F. State Teachers College,
San Francisco, Calif.

Dear Sir:

In consideration of the continuing sale of Duchess sandwiches to the State Teachers College cafeteria we are pleased to offer a Duchess Student Benefit Fund of one hundred dollars ($100.00) per annum.

The responsibility for allocation of this fund, whether for scholarships or any other worthwhile student activities, shall be vested in the executive council of the Associated Students. The Duchess Fund will be payable at the close of each spring semester, including the current semester, so that the benefits will be available for the school year commencing each August.

We wish to stress the fact that in accepting this Student Benefit Fund the Associated Student Body is not bound to any business stipulations in any form. We have enjoyed the majority of your sandwich business for the past seven years, during which time popular preference for Duchess sandwiches has been clearly demonstrated. We feel confident that future business relations will remain as pleasant as they have been in the past.

Please advise us as to acceptance for this offer.

Yours very truly,

DUCHESS SANDWICH
CO. OF S. F.

BROTHER LEO

Sigma Pi Sigma Presents

Student Tickets At Premium For Brother Leo Lecture, Wednesday, At Veterans Auditorium

Student tickets were at a premium today as the Brother Leo lecture in the Veterans Auditorium Wednesday evening rapidly approached. Here are the developments.

1) Ed Barry, chairman of arrangements, revealed that out of six hundred student tickets only 125 remained.

2) That in order to insure meeting financial obligations only that number could be issued.

3) That Miss Florence Quartararo, soprano from the Elizabeth Wills studios, would open the program with selections from Mignon and Pagliacci.

4) That Dean P. F. Valentine would introduce Brother Leo, famed lecturer, who is noted for his amazing reaction on college students.

"We inaugurated this lecture with the idea of giving students something really entertaining and educating. If we are successful we may bring Dr. Sproul of the University of California, Kathleen Norris and other people of that type to speak," declared Bob Sweeney, who contacted Brother Leo.

Opening the program will be Miss Florence Quartararo, accomplished soprano, who will sing Scene and Gavotte from Mignon, by Massenet; Balatella from Pagliacci, by Leoncavallo and Le Filles De Cadix by Des Libes. Her accompanist will be Miss Evelyn Phelan Hannaford. She will be immediately followed by Dean Valentine, who will introduce Brother Leo.

Ed Barry, of the Sigma Pi Sigma fraternity, will give the welcoming address.

Tickets are on sale this week and until the night of the lecture in the Co-op and at Sherman and Clay Co. Student tickets are on sale in front of the co-op.

ATTENTION!

Counseling for Fall semester is now going on. Students are urged to sign up as soon as possible if they wish to get into all their classes.

Student Body Officers

Four O'clock Deadline For Student Petitions

Number Of Candidates Expected For All Offices . . . Treasurer Job Leading Parade

"No petitions for student body office will be accepted after 4 o'clock today," Dena Witte, secretary, declared emphatically this morning in the student body office as she prepared herself for a busy day.

"I'm leaving the College at 4 sharp, and there will be no postponement of petition deadlines," she stated further.

Staters Get Special Price

Working for the interest of State students, the Parent-Faculty club has succeeded in making possible, bargain ticket books for the 1940 Exposition. Through their efforts, State students will have the opportunity of purchasing a season ticket book to the Fair for $3.75.

This book contains 130 admissions and is non-transferable. Student books can be purchased only on April 18, and 19, between ten and four o'clock, in Dean Mary A. Ward's office.

To insure proper identification, purchasers must have their picture taken at 200 Bush street, at no additional cost. Each booklet sold to students will be stamped S. F. State college.

Every student of generally accepted college age may enjoy this privilege.

Season tickets for faculty members will also be on sale for $7.50, and a special book containing five admissions and five feature attractions will be offered for $2.50.

It is hoped that as many students as possible will take advantage of this opportunity, not only because of the ticket value, but because 10 percent of the money sold from the student books, will be given over to the student-aid fund.

Lowell Debate Tournney Winner

Under the direction of Vivian Fleming, the Tenth Annual High School Debate Tournament was held last Friday and Saturday, April 5 and 6, on the college campus.

Fourteen high schools throughout the State participated, sending 40 extempore and oratory speakers, and 32 debate teams, a total of 105 speakers.

First place in the tournament was won by Lowell high school, while second place went to Modesto high school.

Delta Sigma, debate fraternity, sponsored the tournament, giving nine cups to speakers who excelled in their events. Connie Keenan and Lorraine Everson acted as hostesses in the Activities room, serving refreshments to the coaches and judges from the various high schools.

The tournament was under the general supervision of Vivian Fleming, Rudolph Koller and Al Raby.

When asked who were circulating petitions this week, Miss Witte said that two petitions for the office of treasurer had already been turned in, the aspirants being Ben Brooks and Joe Edelstein.

Possible presidential nominees are Wade Brummal and Morley Carrothers she revealed. Gladys Hurning, Jean Van Arsdale and Peggy Clifford have declared their intentions to run for the vice-presidency.

Those seeking the office of women's representative include: Muriel Hart, Ruth Graves and Gerry Polite.

Other possible candidates are Tillie Rastad for secretary and Ernie Miguel for Director of Publications.

Officers to be elected include: president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, Director of Publications, yell leader, and four representatives (two men and two women). The A.W.S. will hold its election at the same time, Miss Witte added.

"Requirements for the various officeholders may be found in the Student Handbook," Miss Witte concluded.

Bib 'n Tucker In 'Fashion' Dance

Bib'n Tucker is dressing up the gym April 19 for their fashion show and dance. This is no ordinary fashion show however as there will be both girl and fellow models.

The orchestra for the dance will be Larry Cannon's. The time is 9 to 1. The price is thirty-five cents. Tickets may be purchased from Bib'n Tucker members, who can be identified by big blue bows in their hair.

The models will be paired off as follows: Betty DeVoe and George Otis; Peg Clifford and Bob Woods; Betty Fisher and George Fenneman; Bernice Bianchi and Marsh Hansen; Cleo Prineas and Bill White; Bonnie Eaden and Bob Anderson; Dottie Bennett and Bill Dorwin; Rhoda Ayres and Pat Sullivan; Jean Van Arsdale and Pete Mirande; Virginia Huff and Chad Reade.

The clothes will be from Roos Bros. The styles will be sport, street and formal. The show will take place during the intermission around eleven and the commentator will be from Roos along with their latest in what the well-dressed campusite is wearing this season.

Campus

Don't Make Your Mark

Some of the students at this college will graduate with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. There is also another group of students, all men, who will shatter tradition and graduate with a degree of Bachelor, or even a Doctor's, degree of Pornography.

To the uninitiated, pornography is filthy writing on walls in the places where only men will congregate. Saddest exhibition of the immature college man is in the por de la whatsit in Anderson hall.

Time after time, this wall has been washed, scrubbed, spotlessly clean, only to be marked up again by these collegiate morons.

If this is a representation of the line of thinking of those who have such inhibitions and express their degenerate minds on public property, the quicker they land in Agnew the better off this campus will be.

Students supposedly come here for an education and in the end get what they are looking for, namely, a way of life. But also with this group come a few who for debased reasons get a perverse thrill in exuding the filth of their mind to other students.

It is the duty of those students whose mind is above the gutter to report those who do scribble their perverse aberrations on the walls.

Of course, this is not the first time such a thing has happened. But previous to the new crop of pornographic art, this college could say that it had been rid of this evil for at least a year and a half. Now this crop of men students takes us back to the Neanderthal age, when communication was by means of sign language only, and when men were purer in thought than the men of today.

And so it will be said that "if ye seek evil, so shall ye see." But there was no effort to seek such an evil, it was there in front of many eyes. The fungus will grow without any concerted effort.

Grow up, you pornographers, for you are in an institution of learning. Remember, your actions reflect your mind's way of thinking.

Push That Lever Down

The time is rapidly approaching when you will have your chance to have your say in how the affairs of State will be run. Election day is not far off, and no doubt you will be accosted by the candidates for the various offices to "Vote for me."

This is well and good, but remember—you still have the final say and as such you should do a great deal of serious thinking about each office. Weigh each qualification carefully, and in general, size each candidate up so that you will know which one of the candidates you want to represent you.

No doubt, there will be a bit of mud-slinging; nothing printed, of course, but whispered from mouth to mouth; remember, there are various means of spreading personal propaganda, and vocal slander is the greatest means.

The Political Scene:

Politicos Get Chance Now

• What kind of a politician are you? What! No aspirations? Tsk, tsk. Of course, maybe your name isn't on a ballot, any place, or maybe it never will be on any ballot, ever, but how about these gorgeous hours of daydreaming about, "If I were prexy or mayor or governor, I'd make things hum!"

Why, just the other day an aspiring young man with nothing ahead of him but the street broom, was talking pretty seriously about what he'd do if he were mayor of San Francisco. He had some pretty good ideas, too. The way he talked you could tell that he was wearing the gardenia in his buttonhole already. Pretty soon his face lit up and he said, "Well, anyway, I'm young yet." He's going to be mayor some day. And why not?? This is a free country.

THE CHASER has been looking the situation over. It has come to a solemn conclusion that there are all kinds of politicians and that most of them are interesting. They run from the dictator type that smears you down if you cross the wrong eye first, to the weasel type that sneaks up with a "Hi, kid, howdja like to make a little dough?" sort of thing.

On April 24 the Political edition of the Chaser is going to let you guys in on a few of these. Looks like a swell chance to sit down in a quiet corner and check over your potentialities. You never can tell. It is still a free country.

A New Romeo, Juliet At Geary

• Hollywood in all its radiance is at the Geary theater this week. We've seen Romeo and Juliet in the movies, but seeing the movies in Romeo and Juliet was a new, and we must confess, a delightful experience for us.

The production lacked perfection, but in that lack was enclosed a certain definite charm. Perhaps it was the presence of Vivien Leigh in the role of the star-crossed heroine. For once in our experience, we saw a Juliet who looked the age Shakespeare intended her to be. Her voice was sweet and lucid, but those are qualities which needed bolstering in her more tragic scenes.

Laurence Olivier is one of our favorite actors on the screen. We read once where he stole a play on Broadway by his tremendous acting. He handled the direction, management, and sets of Romeo and Juliet, and also played the role of Romeo.

For the most part—especially in the scene at Juliet's bier and the sequence at the apothecary's shop—Olivier was splendid. But he was a Romeo who thrilled us with his lines while bouncing around too much. To direct, produce, and even compose music, and then attempt to give his all in the main role, is a superhuman job.

The supporting cast was magnificent. Dame May Whitty, whom we first saw in Emlin William's "Night Must Fall," was grand as the solicitous nurse. Alexander Knox, in the role of the plotting Friar Laurence, has the most perfect diction we've ever heard; it's a shame that his voice is too youthful for the part. Mercutio was brought to vivid life by another talented young man, Edmund O'Brien.

But it took our favorite movie butler to steal the show. Halliwell Hobbes, a veteran of the screen, sought out and projected the comedy that few people

We Want A Female Prexy

• The editors of The Chaser really started something when they said, "We Want A PETTICOAT In Prexy's Chair."

The whole idea was taken as a gag at first. Then some bright young thing took it seriously and decided that a Female Prexy might not be such a bad deal, after all. One thing led to another, and—for the past week the campus has been humming with "Woman for President" talk.

"There is no question but that a woman in the president's office would offer possibilities for new ideas, new opportunities, and the furthering of liberal viewpoints. I have no prejudice in the matter, but I do think we are in the well-known rut and it's high time we were doing something about it," declared Norma Lindskog, high sophomore.

Said Roland Ingraham, graduate student, "I don't believe a woman could handle the position. It is too much responsibility for a woman (whose place is in the home)."

Ernie Miguel, junior, had this to say: "There's a lot of girls around here who could do a better job than some of the fellows who are running."

According to High Senior Marjorie Ackerman, a Woman Prexy is a good idea because "there are more girls than fellows in school. And why should we not have a girl for a change, anyway?"

"It's a man's job," Roy Sayles, low freshman, stated.

Bob Osegueda, high soph, would like to see a woman put up for president just to see how the student body would react to the idea.

Hasn't any woman on campus the courage or the gumption to take advantage of the opportunity presented?

Could This Be A Class In Action?

• One sunny morning in a cozy room in respectable Annex A, the walls shook and a tremor passed over the building as a college professor asked his class, "Why do State students conduct themselves in such an informal manner in the classroom? Could it be the fault of the professors?"

The class was dumbfounded. June Dirksman swallowed her gum. Paul Primon slid to the floor. Jake Cinch turned red, as usual.

The professor again looked at the class, bewildered. Why was a hitherto noisy group so silent?

"Do you prefer not to answer?" he queried.

Abashed, the class hung their individual heads. At last one brave soul, Doris Maldemero, proffered a suggestion in a low controlled voice. "State students act like children because they are treated as such," she gasped. "At Cal—", but she was drowned out by others clamoring to be heard.

"Let there be more straight lectures," put in Edith Steinhart. "Followed by class discussions," said Mart Hellefsen.

"More homework!" yelled Ulysses S. Grant, but by this time poor Professor Smith lay prostrate on the floor, and all hands were on deck reviving him.

knew existed in the role of Juliet's father.

We've seen finer productions of Romeo and Juliet and we were more deeply stirred by the piece, but never have we seen a more downright pleasant production. Keep it up, Hollywood, say we.

AND THEN SHE SAID . . .

Tovarich Is . . . Gay . . . Sophisticated

• Tovarich . . . the word conjures up excitement and gaiety. Last Tuesday my curiosity prompted me to go down and see what definition the Little Theater group was giving the play. When we walked in we found a lot of excitement and some gaiety, but no Tovarich.

Over at the piano Jeanne Kerwin and George Fenneman were collaborating on their own arrangement of "Saint Louis Blues." Up stage, Bob Sigerson was being very Russian all by himself. Julie Wesserman was sitting by the door trying to work a crossword puzzle.

After a few minutes the pianists asked what we wanted. We said we just wanted to catch a rehearsal for the "Gater." Thereupon they all became quite dignified and with professional courtesy pointed to George Fenneman as the star. He is Prince Makial Alexandrovich Ouratieff . . . no less. And our Laurie Applegarth is Grand Duchess Tatiana Petrovna.

We asked George what part Sigerson was reading, and it seems that he is the Concierge. Cynthia McIntyre was over in another corner and she was practicing up on how to be a maid. Just then Jeanne Kerwin came over and said in her very best Russian, "I am Olga." Ray Hutchison, we understand, has been promoted to Commissar of the Soviet.

Olga, or rather Jeanne, started telling us a little of the plot. It revolves around a couple of Russian exiles who have about four billion francs of the Czar's money, and they don't know what to do with it. (Fancy?) They become servants in the Dupont household. Georges Dupont is none other than the director, Herb Smith.

Well, when we got this much of the story, the director yelled, "Places!" All the clowning stopped, and a workmanlike rehearsal started.

We got the idea it was time to make our exit when we saw Julie Wesserman put down the crossword puzzle and get to work on the scenery and backdrops.

The thing that impressed us most was the enthusiasm and honest effort each one brought to his job. This sincerity, coupled with adequate direction, effective costuming and technical details should add up to something pretty special on Monday night.

Remember . . . it's gay . . . it's sophisticated . . . it's Tovarich. Betty Zehnder

The Cat's Whisker

• According to an avalanche of compliments and comments from students, radio guests and faculty members, San Francisco State's first RADIO DAY was a great success. The committee in charge of the affair wants me to express their appreciation for the wonderful cooperation they found on every hand, and that goes for everyone all down the line from President Robert (Bob) Sweeney to Mr. McCarthy, the gardener, who set up the piano and furniture on the stage.

JERRY TO SING MONDAY

Because of their appearance on the talent parade in the bowl last Thursday, Hal Jacobs and Jerry Sharkey, two of State's most talented entertainers, will be heard on the Homestead Amateur Hour. Jerry is appearing on next Monday evening at 8 p.m. over KPO from the stage of the Knights of Columbus hall at 150 Golden Gate avenue.

HAL TO APPEAR APRIL 22

Then on Monday evening, April 22, Hal Jacobs will do his clever impersonations on the Amateur hour. This program will be back at the old "stamping grounds," the Western Women's Club, Sutter and Mason streets.

TICKETS ARE SCARCE

Tickets for Jerry's show are scarcer than hen's teeth, but those who would like to have tickets (not more than two to each person) for the program which will feature Hal Jacobs, may have them by letting this writer know via Box 906.

AND HELLO, KSFO!

Dick Aurandt called this morning and said that Jerry would sing on his "Contrast in Rhythms" program, Tuesday evening, April 16, on KSFO. This smart orchestral program is released by not only KSFO but all the other ace Columbia stations up and down the coast. We wish Jerry every success in his first Columbia Broadcasting Company program. It's a great break for Jerry as well as for the school he will represent on the program. Tell your folks up and down the coast to listen in. A card to the broadcasting company or program director of KSFO wouldn't do any harm, either.

LETTERS

TO THE EDITOR

Radio Day Aftermath?

Dear Editor:

• In answer to many questions which have been asked me and which I have heard discussed on the campus since last Thursday's Radio Talent Parade in the outdoor bowl, I would offer these explanations at this time.

Although the program was not intended to be an amateur contest, the officials of the various stations who were present, considered it a good time to hear prospective talent and attended the parade with that in mind. What their arrangements have been with any others who performed before them in private auditions, I do not know or is it my affair, but that did not concern our committee in choosing them to perform here. All we wanted was a fair cross section of the talent at State, and no one was denied the opportunity to appear on the bowl program Thursday. We had no private auditions ourselves.

Sincerely,
Stub Harvey

Cindermen Go Against Humboldt Mystery Squad Tomorrow At Kezar

The important question placed before the house today is whether or not Humboldt State even has a track team, and should they by chance have one, just how good are they? And that very important question is answered by the man who should know. We are now speaking of David J. Cox, who among other things, coaches the track team.

"I DUNNO"

With a mumbled "I dunno," and a jumbled mess of words that sounded something like "Schultz, Otis, Carolan and Klein will all try to break the school records in this meet," he sank back exhausted.

"I dunno, I dunno nothing about Humboldt. From what little information I've been able to gather, I think that this is the first time that they even have had a track squad."

"Is there even any chance of them having a team," we shot at him. "I dunno, I dunno nothing, so help me, I dunno nothing." "But," we parried, "being as this school is located up north, shouldn't they have some pretty big fellows up there?" "Don't say that," he quipped. "Look out," we retorted, "they'll probably throw the shot and discus right out of Kezar."

COX WONDERERS

"If there is such a track team," Cox staggered on, "we positively will meet them at Kezar Stadium next Saturday. Why, that's tomorrow!" (Amazing deduction this man has.) "Please go away and leave me to my discus and javelins. Please."

"No, emphatically no," we came back. "No, tell and tell all. What are you going to do for sprinters?" "I dunno, I dunno," he sighed. "Schultz, Otis, Carolan and Klein will all try to break the school records in their events," he blurted out. "You said that," we exchanged.

AT KEZAR

"Please go away," he pleaded, "go away and I'll see you Saturday at Kezar." "You bet you'll see us there, and if Humboldt doesn't show, well—," and so we left him; a broken man who could say nothing but "I dunno."

State Nine Grabs S.M.J.C. Series, 4-0

San Francisco State made it four in a row over San Mateo J. C. by whipping the Bulldog nine to 1 last Wednesday in San Mateo.

The Gater triumph brought the Bulldog series to an end. State took the series four games to none, a clean sweep for Harden's boys.

KOHOUT WINS

Bob Kohout hurled his third straight win, and set the San Matians with five scattered safeties. Kohout's scoreless inning string was stopped at 22 stanzas. Jim Carlson, hard-hitting San Mateo first sacker, tripled to score catcher Adler with their only tally in the fourth frame.

The Staters touched Bob Preston for eight blows, and bunched four of them in the third to score four runs. Bob Moore and fiery Dick Coshaw led the Gaters at the bat. Moore hit a triple and a single. Coshaw connected for a pair of singles.

Bob Preston and Wally Adler were the batteries for San Mateo. Bob Kohout and "The Brain", George "Red" Weekes toiled for the Gaters.

AGGIES TOMORROW

State's dusky diamonders engage the Cal Aggies in a double-header tomorrow in Davis. The Tide nine hopes to stretch its win streak to five straight, and the Aggies are aiming at its second series from San Francisco rivals. The University of San Francisco was defeated twice by the Farmers.

Carl Haas and the "Grand Master", Gene Bryant, will most likely handle the mound chores for the Tide.

State Racquetees Bow To J.C., 7-2

San Francisco State suffered its first defeat of the current season when they were overwhelmed by a powerful S.F.J.C. tennis squad by seven matches to two. Harold Wagner annexed the only singles victory for the Gaters and then he combined with Jack Witte to capture one of the doubles matches.

Following are the results: SINGLES—Wagner (S) d. Madamba (JC) 6-4, 6-3; Mead (JC) d. Witt (S) 6-4, 6-3; Berns (JC) d. Tusher (S) 8-6, 3-6, 7-5; Hare (JC) d. Kolhauf (S) 7-5, 6-4; Waxman (JC) d. Hammond (S) 6-4, 2-6, 6-4; Calagos (JC) d. Kim (S) 4-6, 6-0, 8-6.

DOUBLES—Wagner-Witte (S) d. Madamba-Berns (JC) 6-4, 9-7; Mead-Hare (JC) d. Hammond-Golhauf (S) 6-3, 6-4; third doubles defaulted to S.F.J.C.

Coed Fencing Course In Fall

Announcement was forthcoming today from Len Duckworth, fencing instructor, that the sport will be offered as a co-educational one this coming fall.

No unit of credit is to be given, but all those wishing to participate are urged to get in touch with Duckworth as the equipment is limited. Women wishing to participate, should contact Inez Erickson, women's fencing manager.

The elementary class will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 2:00 p.m. and advanced classes on the same days at three.

Softball Teams File Entries

Announcement of schedules for the intramural softball tourney, slated to begin next Tuesday, was made today by Don Kupfer, intramural director.

With last minute entries swelling the team totals, outlook for the success of the tournament assumed an extremely rosy hue, said Kupfer.

Bulldogs Drub Jayvees 64-37

Garnering but three first places, State's jayvee track team suffered a rout at the hands of the Commerce High Bulldogs yesterday afternoon at the Commerce stadium, 64½-37½.

Paced by the Provost brothers, the Bulldogs nearly doubled the point totals of the Gaters, sweeping the shotput and allowing but one tally in the discus.

Meier and Turney in the high jump, Lando in the mile, Lefcourt in the quarter, were the only winners for the State squad.

Summary:

100 yd. dash—Won by Provost (C); second, Cunningham (C); third, Mull (S). Time, :10.4.

220 yd. dash—Won by Cunningham (C); second, Ran Catox (C); third, Mull (S). Time, :24.2.

440 yd. dash—Won by Lefcourt (S); second, Rocky (C); third, Irwin (C). Time, :54.7.

Hoopla Warriors Face Gater Mittmen In Nine Bout Card; Squad Looks For First Win

Spring Grid Mobilization Due Monday

Come on all you huskies and show the girls that those shoulders are not padded. Coach Dick Boyle wants men for spring football practice starting Monday on the upper field.

Issuing a plaintive cry for material to turn out, Coach Boyle added the encouragement that all positions are wide open, as many of last year's aces will be lost this fall.

Boyle stated that uniforms would be issued to anxious aspirants at noon on Monday, and at any noon hour thereafter.

An addition to the spring coaching staff was announced by Boyle, naming Guy Swannack as line mentor for the spring drills.

LOSSES HEAVY

Disheartening news of the loss of five of last year's main string has dimmed the outlook for the fall campaign. An influx of prep stars at the opening of school the coming semester would cheer the pigskin followers of State no end.

Of last year's squad, Reade, Chandler and Lowrie return to their posts in the backfield, with only Dave Schiller numbered among the missing.

In the line, the entire right flank has gone with the wind, with "Hook" Hanrahan and Swannack listed in the casualties. The left wing remains intact with the possible exception of Bob Lee, end.

BOYLE GLUM

Pessimistic rather than overconfident, Boyle admits the sight of a good triple threat back, plus a few rough and tough linemen would cheer him no end.

Competition will be offered the squad before the conclusion of the work-outs with a practice game scheduled with the Moffet Field soldiers.

The Gaters open next fall against Nevada at Reno on September 13.

The redskins from Hoopa Indian school invade the campus tonight in full war paint to make an effort to lift the scalps of Coach Don Kupfer's Gater boxing squad.

Nine strong, the Indian lads coached by George Bogdanoff, former State athlete, tangle with a strengthened band of Gater mittmen capable of turning in their best performances of the season.

Fully rested and in the best condition thus far this spring, Kupfer sends a team against the war-whoops that has weathered a tough and not too successful season, but one that has been gathering experience and cunning every time out.

HEAVIES MEET

With Phil Rodman and Guy Swannack pacing the squad in the heavyweight division, the Tide fighters range down to Dick Chinn at 124 lbs.

Swannack is slated to face Joe Marshall, and Rodman draws the Glenn Carpenter, with the two boys ably capable of maintaining themselves in an upright position against the State battlers.

Ted Press at 155 lbs. goes against Dave Risling of Hoopa; Aubrey Wendling fights Billie Quimby in the 149 lb. class, and Lawrence Hostler matches fists with Ernest Leydecker of the Gater squad.

Gene Hailstone, a distant cousin of Chief Rain in the Face, evidently, will attempt to dampen the enthusiasm of Carl Magaran when they square in the 135 lb. bracket.

POPE FIGHTS

Frankie Pope, a consistent winner in past meets, fights Paul Moon, 130 lbs., in what should prove to be the fastest bout of the evening. Pope, a speedster and a clever boxer, is well rested due to his recent layoff with a cut eye. Completely recovered, he should be good for his best battle of the season.

The bouts are to be held in the Women's gym, beginning at 8 p.m., and will be the initial appearance of the boxing team on the campus this semester.

Kupfer is brimming over with confidence for tonight's battles, and for the first time this season is predicting his squad will come out at the long end of the score. A good turnout is expected.

INTRAMURAL ACTIVITIES

Keen competition is promised when intramural softball opens next Tuesday at the upper field. Signups have been completed and all is set to roll when the umpire calls "play ball."

Among the teams competing in the loop, will be the Dusky Diamonders who are managed by Walt Lagamarsino and captained by Stubby Ahern. Backed up by such baseball stalwarts as Bob Kohout, Phil Stolz, Joe Sullivan, Charley Christianson, Pete Miranda and Bill Brumfield, the Diamonders should go far in the tournament. The surprise of the entire tournament should be "Cupcake" Ahern who has a rifle arm and a good batting eye.

SIGMANS THREATEN

Sigma Pi Sigma, with a signup of twenty men, should again prove a strong threat to the title that they won last year. The Sigmans, with Jack McGann on the mound, will again present a strong infield and outfield defensively. Among those who will perform for the fraternity are: Bob Anderson, Lou Quarteraro, Bill White, Bob Buckley, John Finn, John Pichotto and many others.

Another one of the teams that may come through is the ball club called Ryall's All Stars. Boasting an impressive array of talent, they could run away with the crown. Left hander John McGuire will prove a potent threat at the platter and the club should be well balanced on the field.

DIRECTORS FAVORED

As usual, the Playground Directors will be a pre-tournament favorite to annex the title. Good pitching and hitting carried them all the way to the finals last year and they should prove strong in this year's race.

Other teams to contend with are: Publications, Econ Bulls, Robinsonites and the OMAC if they enter.

A.W.S. Send Girls To Convention

Representing San Francisco State College at the western convention of Associated Women Students, will be Margarite Sout, A.W.S. prexy, and Barbara Biggs.

A.W.S. members from numerous western colleges will convene at Eugene, Oregon, for the convention.

Miss Sout and Miss Biggs will leave Saturday night and return the following Thursday.

They will participate in the discussions on cooperatives, roundtables, and lectures.

Gater-Cal Aggies Golfers Clash On Ingleside Course Tomorrow

Clashing next Saturday morning on the dewy grasses of Ingleside for their money, if not a severe beating. The vengeful few are: Gordon Mailoux, Roy Sayles, Bob Zamlock and Jim Eaton. All these fellows are acknowledged by previous opponents as "mean men on the green." Experts who have reviewed the "mean men" in practice, hand them considerable praise. On the average, every one of the Gater men can handle any club in the leather bag with equal skill.

However, the same experts who praise the State squad are also handing the Aggies a few flowers. It is claimed that if the Staters are not on their toes the Aggies will run off with the day's honors. Asked about this, the Gater divotees hastened to state that they are on their toes and that the Aggies will get plenty of trouble, if they win at all.

In view of this out-for-blood attitude, the match should make interesting grandstand stuff. Harry Robey invites all followers of the little white ball to show up at Ingleside and chase the elusive pill, along with the team.

Summary: A big day at Ingleside, because Charles Manning has to cross a Bridge and the squad is eager for the kill.

... WOMEN IN SPORTS ...

Undaunted by the 15 to 8 trouncing the men's faculty gave them two weeks ago in a softball game, the W.A.A. is coming back for more punishment this afternoon.

The girls have called on their reserves, and the new line-up reads as follows: catcher, Bobbe Sandeen; pitcher, Jo Biggi; 1st baseman, Jean Madison; 2nd, Kalie Columbus; 3rd Anna Davis; shortstop, Claire Knabenshuh; shortfield, Gladys Janssen, leftfield, Mickey Gallagher; centerfield, Betty Hendy; rightfield, Margaret Wormell.

No new lineup has been released for the men and it is believed they are keeping the same team.

INTRA-MURAL BASKETBALL:

In the field of intra-mural basketball we have a three way tie for the A division between the Two Trues, the Y.G.A.C. and the Berthauds, each team having won one game.

In the C division, Mrs. F. Stephenson's class teams, the W.F. 10 A and the W.F. 10 B are taking all in their stride and lead their league.

B division teams had their play but results have not as yet been made public.

SKATE

Always socially active, the next

Alpha Phi Gamma

Preps Prep For Journalism Test

Over one hundred hopeful high school students will gather on the campus tomorrow morning to compete for the Sixth Annual Mary Louise Kleinecke Journalism Scholarship, sponsored by Alpha Phi Gamma.

Registration for the examination starts at 9 a. m. and the test will last till noon. The examination was written by members of the fraternity and will cover all phases of the journalistic field.

To the winner will go one semester's free tuition and fees to the college and a chance for a second semester. A B average and excellence in extra-curricular journalistic activities for the semester is required, together with a vote of the fraternity, for the second semester's free tuition to be awarded.

This is the sixth of a series of journalism scholarships to be awarded to State, according to Ernie Miguel, president of the fraternity. The scholarships were previously known as the Alpha Gamma and John Henry Nash scholarships, but this name was recently changed to honor the memory of Mary Louise Kleinecke, deceased faculty member of the fraternity.

Previous winners have been Floyd Walter of Lowell, now with the News, Ina Gill of Castlemont, Bob Osegueda of Fremont, Dorothy Fox of Roosevelt, and Phil Schmidt of Lowell.

Scholarship Is Given At Rally

To start their semi-annual campaign for scholarship applicants, Sigma Alpha Eta will hold a rally April 18, it was announced by Jack Madigan, rally chairman.

This is the fourth such scholarship to be awarded to a State student. Previous winners have been: Alex Shelekov, now attending Stanford Medical school as a result of S.A.E. aid; Bob Wolf, and Vernon Noble.

The scholarship is awarded on the basis of a 1.5 grade point average, one year's residence at college, prominence in extra-curricular activities, and need.

LID-LIFTER

Slamming The Gater (r)

Dear Editor:

Not knowing how else to state this, I'll be very frank. Your paper is getting "punk." Toward the beginning of the term the paper was at its best—well organized and interestingly written—but now it just simply isn't. What's happening? Are you just completely lying down on the job, or just losing interest? Lately the ads of your paper mean more to me than the actual articles. I guess that is a slam (but the truth!).

Folk dancing, which proved to be so popular at a current noon day dance, will be held in Frederic Burk auditorium this evening, from 8-12, under the sponsorship of the Brush and Palette club. Admission to all will be ten cents.

All those who enjoyed doing such popular folk dances as the schottische, polka, hambo, wooden shoes, Gustaf's Skoal, and others, are urged to attend. Brush and Palette members guarantee all those attending an exciting evening and full of surprise.

Sigma Alpha Eta Donates New Book

Responsibility for the choice of Sigma Alpha Eta's book donation to the library for this semester lies in the hands of Dr. Morse, Miss Fleming and Vernon Noble.

The fraternity, each semester, appoints such a committee which selects some worth while book from suggestions of instructors, and donates it to the library. The book is of such a nature that, due to the fact that it does not directly apply to any course, or is of general interest only, instructors have not asked to have it purchased out of the regular library fund.

Speaker

Mooney Talks To Young Democrats

Archie Mooney, secretary of the California Apprenticeship Council will speak at the next meeting of the recently organized San Francisco State College Young Democratic Club, it was announced this week by Marvel Dell Shore, chairman of the committee in charge.

Mooney, who is an ardent supporter of the youth movement and one of the sponsors of the California Youth Legislature, will speak on "Is There A Job For You?" E. H. Kelly, member of the Executive Board, will preside as honorary chairman of the day.

The subject to be discussed is of particular interest to college students because getting a job is the most important problem facing him after graduation. The State of California has made a bold frontal attack in the establishment last year of the California Apprenticeship Council, in an effort to bridge the gulf between the completion of education and steady employment.

The meeting will be held Tuesday noon (12 o'clock) April 16, in the activities room and all students who are interested in current political and civic affairs are invited to attend, regardless of party affiliation, according to Doctors Edward E. Cassady and Floyd A. Cave, faculty sponsors of the club.

adise Cove about noon for lunch, free ice cream, coffee, softball, dancing, hiking, swimming and other activities.

The boat will leave shortly after 4 o'clock, and return via Berkeley and dock in San Francisco about 7 o'clock.

Tickets cost one dollar and will be on sale until 4 o'clock this afternoon in the ticket booth outside the cafeteria. Those not having a dollar may secure tickets by paying a 35-cent deposit.

No tickets will be on sale Sunday morning unless a deposit has been paid, as the boat's capacity is limited and the Newman Club can take no chances on unclaimed reservations.

Arnold Vezzani and Barbara O'Farrell are co-chairmen of the excursion.

Reasons Revealed In 'Martyr' Delay

Coining a well known phrase, "That worth doing, is worth doing well," Roland Ingraham, author and director of the midterm musicale, "Alma Martyr", announced that the play will not be presented this term as scheduled.

Because of the delay in completing the script, production will be withheld until next term. It is believed that the postponement of the musicale will prove beneficial by providing more time in which to perfect the acts, and more opportunity to uncover talent with which to fill the cast.

The career of Alfred Arriola former instructor of trumpet at State and conductor of the Golden Gate Park band, was terminated by death last Saturday.

Noted as one of San Francisco's leading musical figures, Mr. Arriola was a member of the San Francisco Symphony orchestra for sixteen years prior to his Golden Gate Park band leadership. He has written hundreds of compositions, best known of which are his "American Rhapsody" and his "San Francisco Suite".

Modern Trends

'MacBeth' Climaxes Shakespeare May Festival For Staters

Three modern world trends—social breakdown, streamlined science, and individual neuroticism—will be expressed in the production of Macbeth that will climax State's Shakespeare Festival early in May.

The half-hour adaptation will be one of various excerpts which will comprise the Festival. Miss Jessie Casebolt stated yesterday that students interested in preparing excerpts still have time to start work on them.

Four Macbeth rehearsals weekly are being held, with Jack McKanay and Lily Phillips as the leads, Wallace Twitchell as Macduff, Stanley Lefcourt as Malcolm, Mark Davis as Banquo, Bob Lovejoy as Ross, Donald Joy as the doctor, Marjorie Willis as a gentlewoman, and Hallock Wagner and Louise Winters as witches.

Santa Cruz Site Of Frosh Picnic

The bright sunny sands of Santa Cruz beach will be the long awaited for location of the low frosh picnic. On the morning of April 28, all the pleasure seeking students of State will gaily bedeck themselves and make the 75 mile trek to the beach city.

Heads of the picnic committee have promised that this will be a day not to be forgotten. On schedule for this gala occasion will be many activities such as: baseball games, swimming contests, and the other events that go to make a picnic a huge success. In between these games and activities, refreshments will be served to the entire crowd.

The price of this picnic is to be $1.00 a person. Stags as well as couples will be wholeheartedly welcome.
